injuring his professional standing as a physician and a credit and reputation as a citizen.

Some interesting reasons.

Among the reasons brought forward by the plaintiffs' attorneys why his removal was liegal and oppressive are the following, which make spicy political reading:

The defendant was not empowered by law to make the charges and to be both prosecutor and judge of the same cause.

The defendant maliciously and unlawfully removed the plaintiff from the office of Health Commissioner upon charges preferred by himself, on which there was no evidence before him on said trial to sustain.

The defendant did not believe from the evidence in the cause that the plaintiff was guilty of the charges preferred and the order of removal was not made by the defendant in good faith but maliciously and without probable cause. That prior to the trial of plaintiff and before the election of the defendant as Mayor, he, the defendant, corruptly agreed with divers and sundry persons, belig members of his political party, which was an adverse party to that of plaintiff, to remove the plaintiff from his office in case he, the defendant, should be elected Mayor. Plaintiff slieges: Upon belief and information that one Chauncey I. Filley and one John Pohlman were two of the said parties with whom the said defendant corruptly agreed as aforesaid.

Plaintiff furtner says that prior to the hearing of the charges, the defendant had corruptly agreed with Max C. Starkloff, a member of his own political party, to use his influence with the City Council to bestow plaintiff's office upon Starkloff after the removal of plaintiff therefrom by himself.

The plaintiff further says that he is intended by the charges that the city council to be the plaintiff further says that he is intended by the charges that the city to a council to be the plaintiff further says that he is intended by the charges that the city council to be the plaintiff further says that he is in-

by himself.

The plaintiff further says that he is informed and believes that prior to the election of the defendant as Mayor there was a conference between the defendant and divers members of his political party at which a conspiracy was entered into between defendant and others to remove Democratic heads of departments from their respective that the properties of the offices. That among the parties so conspiring as aforesaid were the defendant, Chauncey I. Filley and John Henry Pohiman, but plaintiff says he is not informed that such conspiracy included the removal of James J.
Butier as City Attorney.
Plaintiff says that his removal was not made by the defendant in good faith or for the promotion of the public interest, but corruptly, maliciously and unlawfully, and for political purposes merely.

Sheriff Staed Orders His Deputies Not to Open the Courts.

An Understanding Finally Reached and the Machinery of Justice Started.

THE SHERIFF INSISTS THAT CORONER PRANK MUST FEED HIM.

Coroner Frank Is Willing to Do This Provided That He Gets the Fees of the Sheriff's Office While He Has Mr. Steed in Custody-Sheriff Steed and Judge Edmunds Make a Bet on the Result of the Controversy.

The wheels of justice were clogged this orning by reason of the legal entanglement now on between the Sheriff's office and the Judge of the Criminal Court. Sheriff staed, who was committed to jall for ten days for contempt of court by order of Judge Edmunds, gave himself over to the jailer last night, and this morning by the advice of his attorney, Judge Laughlin, issued instructions to his deputies not to open the civil courts. When 10 o'clock arrived the deputies informed the judges that they had received orders not to open court. There was a flurry in consequence and word an explanation of the strange pro Head Deputy Peter came back with word that orders had been received from the Sheriff not to conduct an official business, as he was actually under ar-rest for contempt of court. The message created consternation in the judicial coterie and there was a hurried/gathering in the con-sultation room, where the judges pulled out the statute books and put their heads to-

JUDGE VALLIANT'S ACTION.

Judge Valliant solved the difficulty very quickly and rather took the wind out of Mr. duckly and rather took the wind out of Mr. Staed's sails by deciaring that they could appoint a ballif to open court. Mr. Dailey offered the services of his corps of deputies, but as all the judges were not agreed on the advisability of appointing balliffs he relieved the suspeque by deciaring that he would instruct the deputy sheriffs to open court anyhow.

The judges looked intensely relieved and repaired to their respective rooms, where the day's business was taken up. AT THE FOUR COURTS.

When the Criminal Court was ready to open this morning it was found that there was no legal officer of the court. The Sheriff, open this morning it was found that there was no legal officer of the court. The Sheriff, on being arres ted, immediately suspended his deputies, that he might not be responsible for any of the actions of Coroner Frank while that gentleman was Sheriff. City Counselor Marshall appeard in court and stated that in his opinion the new Sheriff would have to be sworn in and appoint his deputies. The point was argued away for some time. City Counselor Marshall advanced the opinion that all the proceedings of the court while in charge of Coroner Frank would be void unthe officials were again sworn in and went through the same performance, filing bond and qualifying for his office the same as Sheriff Staed had done. While this seene was being enacted a similar one was going on it the Court of Criminal Correction. Judge Claiborne called on the Sheriff to open court and Deputy Sheriff Skidmore refused and said he was suspended.

While the wrangie was going on every two by four attorney practicing law was advancing an opinion and giving advice gratis to the crowd in the court-room.

After an hour spent in delay word was received from the Circuit Court that the judges there had gotten together and agreed that a simple commitment of the Sheriff for contempt did not prevent him from filling his office as there was no indictment against him. They also held that the deputies under his direction were the proper persons to open the court. After the receipt of this information the court was opened and settled down to business.

SHERIFF AND CORO Sheriff Staed, who had been placed on parole by the Jailer, left the court-room in parole by the Salier, left the Court-room in company with Coroner Frank insisting that as the Coroner now had charge of his body he keep intact and feed him properly. The Coroner then brought up the question of fees and the two left court together to find out who received the fees for the time during the incarceration of the Sheriff and what kind of food the Sheriff was entitled to.

While the argument was going on in court Deputy Coroner Rohling had a number of deputy sheriffs to take charge of the office and several of them were in court.

Sheriff Staed will remain on parole until this evening, when Judge Edmunds states that if the writ of habeas corpus which the Sheriff staed will remain the Sheriff was made with the consent of Judge Edmunds.

The case will be argued before the Supreme Court and the result will resolve itself into costs and a suit of clothes which has been bet on the result between the Sheriff and the Judge who have acqued the matter were company with Coroner Frank insisting that bet on the result between the Sheriff and the Judge, who have argued the matter very thoroughly.

How the trouble started.

The trouble between Sheriff Staed and Judge Edmunds, which resulted in the former's arrest and this morning's judicial tangle which is by no means settled definitely as yet, is over the disposal of $250 which was left as security for costs in the hands of Clerk Michael Kenefick of the Criminal Court. The money was garnisheed and turned over to the Sheriff, who claims that from him it goes to the School Board. Judge Edmunds declares that it should be turned into his court and issued an order to that effect. The Sheriff refused to comply and was committed for ten days for contempt.

He was out on bond, but last evening got the Coroner, who is his statutory successor, to turn him over to the jaller. Then under advice from his attorney he refused to transact any official business. If he were to persist in the position he took this morning the progress of the civic courts would be delayed until the Coroner had secured a $60,600 bond and sworn in a new set of deputies.

WILL BE ADJUDICATED.

The Managers of the Southern Electric

The conductors and motormen of th Southern Electric Railway, which runs from Sixth and Marketstreets to Carondelet, have for some time past evinced a spiri of discontent pecause they conceived that their wage were insufficient. Some of them objected also to the employment by the company of road officers, whose duty it is to keep in eye on the men and ex-ercise a general personal supervision of affairs along the line. Yesterday afteraffairs along the line. Yesterday afternoon a committee consisting of Joseph Kennedi William McQuat and Steve Duggan wated upon Supt. Allen, and on behalf of the men made a demand that the road officers be discharged and that the pay of motormen conductors and extra men be raised from 17 ents an hour to 20 cents.
They were informed that the demand for the discharge of the read officers was an attempt to interfere with the company in the management of its business and that unless it was withdrawn no consideration would be give to any demand. Supt.
Allen told the committee also that he was willing to treat with them on the questions of par and hours, but that they must not insit upon unreasonable concessions. The man retired, agreeing to meet the Superlinendent and Gen. Supt.
Minary last night. Another conference was held, and the committeemen announced that he objectionable demand would be withdrawn, and it was then agreed that the committee,
Mr. Bell and Mr. Mnary should vitit the officers of the Broadway, Innell, Union Depot, ascertaining if the men on those roads were being better treated than the Southern Electric road's men. he investigators will do

Daugherty is a married man, his wife and Mrs. Thompson being sisters. The runaways were seen here last night, but have disappeared. This is the same Mrs. Thompson who almost succeeded in sending two neighbors to the penitentiary on a charge of burgiary last summer, she swearing that they bound the to the bed while they robbed the house of $600 brought home that morning by her husband. Daugherty, the man she has gone off with, was the first to discover her a prisoner in her own house, and the supposition now is that the two planned the robbers and trumped up the charges against others. Daugherty left behind four children and Mrs. Thompson two. Thompson says he doesn't want his wife back, but will kill Daugherty on sight.

He smoked four or five cigars, but ate no breakfast. He spoke frequently of hanging during the night and inquired if it was painful. He said he did not object to hanging if it caused no pain. His conversation was interrupted with oaths. Rev. Mr. Ashley of the M. E. Church and Rev. Mr. Greenless of the Congregationalist Church called upon him at 7:30 this morning and remained until the end. Sheriff Carl read the death warrant to him in his cell at 8 a. m., and at 8:20 the proession started for the scaffold. On the plat orm Avery spoke in a long, rambling, abu-

His last words were: "Remember I die an innocent man." The drop fell at 9:24 a. m. He died without a struggle. Sheriff Carl and his deputies performed their duty in a manner that would have done credit to profes sionals of more numerous experiences in this line. There was no hitch, blunder or delay.

Miles, was a resident of Prairie County, Ark. He had been canvassing in Bates County, Mo., for a photograph family record, not meeting with success, and not being able to work on account of having lost a hand in a cotton gin, he started for his home in Arkansas. He had with him a horse and cart, his samples, a valise, an extra suit of clothes, a revolver and 30 cents in money.

On meeting Avery, Miles took him into his cart. They passed through Arcadia about sun-down. They were last seen together about 9:30 p. m., at Leroy, in the Northwest part of Barton County. They drove on about three miles south of Leroy to the creek; stopped in some timber; fed the horse some hay taken from a stack near by; ate some crackers; made a pillow of hay; lay down side by side near the road.

Next morning about sunrise, some teamsters driving by discovered Miles' dead body by the roadside. He had been killed by a pistol shot through the head, His eyes and mouth were closed, head lying on a bunch of hay, no evidence of any struggle.

He was lying, as the teamsters described it, "Just the same as if he had been asleep." Horse, harness, cart, valise, pistol and hat belonging to the dead man were gone. The horse's tract "ted south. Avery traded the cart off next."

When arrested at Galena he was wearing the dead man's clothes and hat and had the horse in his possession. He claimed to have got the horse and clothes from Lon Wright of Fort Scott. But, at his trial, when it was proven that he was in the company of the murdered man just previouis to his death, he testified that when they had lain down on the hay he heard a pistol snap, and that Miles then asked him for his pistol and, on giving it to him, he shot himself; and that he, Avery, became frightened, picked up the dead man's plstol together with his own, harnessed the horse to the cart and drove off.

Avery was tried at the February term (182) of the Circuit Court of this county, found guilty and sentenced to be hung April 22, 889. He appealed to the supreme Court, the sentence

Champion was a brother of Nate Champion, killed by the cattlemen last spring, and Shonsey was a member of that invading host. Mohday night Shonsey sat on his horse when Champion rode up and stopped within ten feet of him with his gun in his right hand. After a few words he made a movement as though to shoot, but was not quick enough, as Shonsey sent a ball through his body. Before the cases were called and while the men ever in the cage adjoining the court Rotterhagen and Parle called on the pair and represented themselves to be court of ficers with influence. Rotterhagen, so Hadick alleges, claimed to be Clerk of the Court, and his partner said he was a deputy coroner. After making known this fact to the crap shooters, they said that they would have the cases settled for $8. Neither Niehaus or Rider had the money, so they sent for Hadick who furnished the amount. Afterwards the men were released on ball and had their cased continued until Monday, so as to give Roterhagen and Parle a chance to settle the matter. Of course this was never accomplished and the result is the "grafters" will have to suffer, if apprehended. Barney Niehaus, were up before

"What is to be done then?"

"I will have the entire place thoroused disinfected and I guarantee there will be little or no disagreeable odor in that vicinity by to-morrow night."

"The dead animal contractor said he was very anxious to do his duty in removing the dead horses, but he was not compelled to dig them out of the ruins.

"So there the case stood. I saw that a hot sun on those ruins meant sickness and death to hundreds in that neighborhood, so I asked the board to pass a resolution to request the Mayor to order a force of men from one of the departments to do the work and the question Mayor to order a force of men from one of the departments to do the work and the question of who should pay for it could be settled atterwards. This was done and I think people who have passed the place or who live in the vicinity have reason to realize the importance of the move. I know that the stonch out there is terrible at present, but nothing can be done to prevent it until the animals are removed. To-morrow, as I said, I will thoroughly disinfect the place." "It is unnecessary to dwell on the necessity of Christian education or to emphasize the importance of distinctively church education. To those who know the church it is apparent that Christian education can hardly be complete without church instruction. Beyond controversy, Jesus, the divine founder of the church, is the most influential personage that has ever appeared in the history of the world. To exclude his life teachings and character from the mar rative of human existence for the last nineteen centuries would be an immeasurably more foolish and surging and Adams from American history. In the midst of the Candings of our times there stands one hation to which all eyes instinctively turn as lock that cannot be shaken, as the refuge form-bearien and tempest-driven souls, the nation that has been reared on church teaching and that owes her majestic sovereignty to the lessons learned from infancy in her school—free English nation."

Sympa—

Bah! A woman doesn't deserve any sympathy, when the knowing better is so easy and the doing better is so cheap.

Think of inhaling this steam and these odors from a tub of dirty clothing, perhaps from the sick room, perhaps much soiled from honest labor. Think of the weak lungs, and throat, the germs of disease, etc., etc. It's all so unnecessary and so ineffective. The sary and so ineffective. The Joseph McMackin, who says he is the young man referred to in an item published Sunday relating how Joseph McMeken is alleged to have worked on the sympathy of relatives by lying down in the road which runs through Lindenwood and feigning illness, says that the statements made by Police Officer Gibbons in his report do him a great injustice. Mr. McMackin states that he had just left the house of a young lady whom he had ascorted to the theater, and was on his way home when he was assauked by an unknown man who struck him behind the ear with a blunt instrument and rendered him unconscious. He was picked up by a Mr. Davis, who is not a relative and cared for. In regard to the statement that he had been driven from home he says it is entirely without foundation, and he cannot understand how such a report could have been started Mr. McMackin is a printer by trade, and bears a good reputation. Paris, May 24.—The two months' drought in France is estimated to have destroyed 22,000,000 francs' worth of crops. The greatest damage was done to the grain crop. A dispatch from slowe says that rain in Northern Italy has sived the people from much of the saor mous loss threatened by the drought. The crops on the Roman Campagna, however, have been ruined.

An Iowa Farmer and His Wife Shot While at Supper.

MASON CITY, Io., May 24.-A desperate attempt at murder occurred about two miles over the line of Worth County last evening. Charles Towne and wife were both shot by an unknown assassin on the outside of the house, while they were at the supper table. Mr. Towne was shot in the forehead, the ball glancing upward. The wife received a bullet in her breast, supposed to have passed around under the skin. Both parties are yet living. A suspicious looking person had been seen around the house in the afternoon, who, making no reply to Mr. Towne's interrogations, was supposed to be dumb. Sheriff Clark went from here in the night to ferret out the case and if possible find the assassin but at this hour no arrest has been made.

ATTY .- GEN. OLNEY thinks there is a law against the opening of the World's Fair on Sundays, and he means to enforce it. But what does he think about the trusts which are robbing the people, the trusts whose organization is forbidden by law? Does he mean to enforce the law against weight, and while the matured conviction HOLDERS of Whisky Trust certificates are likely to find their paper worthless stuff if the combine is disrupted by an internal convulsion. Perhaps this is the real objective of the men who unloaded the stock at good prices. As the law is at present administered there is no better or safer way of accumulating other people's money than by selling trust stocks at ,a high price.

THE Missouri Electric Light people are very angry because their wires were cut to get them out of the way of the firemen at the Crum fire, they alleging that the precaution was not necessary. When human life is at stake such matters had best be left to the discretion of the Chief, as provided by ordinance. When a fire is raging there is no time to weigh the claims of property against person. There is something superbly impudent in the protest of the company.

It is to be regretted that no royal personages are to visit the World's Fair. This is not on account of any loss suffered by the American people, who can get along very well without kings and kinglets, but think of what the kings and queens themselves might learn by daily contact with democratic ideas and ways. Even William of Germany might wake up and find out that he doesn't live in the thirteenth century.

THE festival of the Musicians' Mutual Benefit Association, which was to have been held at Koerner's Garden last night, was postponed, but that did not prevent the Old Pretender from stating that it "was a pronounced success," that "the pretty place was thronged with merrymakers' and "every one took part in the hop." It gave the splendid orchestra which did not play and the singers who did not sing due credit for the work they did not do. ST. LOUISANS are treated to a most gratifying revelation of home talent in the production of "Jacinta," the new comic opera by Messrs. Robyn and Lepere, at the Grand Opera-house. For the smooth and pleasing lyrics of Mr. Lepere Mr. Robyn has composed a wealth of charming music which not only delights the popular ear by its spirited and captivating melodies, but satisfies the critical judgment by its exceptional excellence of composition. In originality of treatment, vigor, tune fulness, good musical qualities and the fitness of words to measures, "Jacinta" compares favorably with the best light opera work. Despite the somewhat adverse circumstances under which the trial production has taken place, the essential merit of the opera is easily recognized. When the practical correction which every new opera needs has been made in this work its popular success will be assured. In giving the stamp they gain abroad.

EX-MINISTER STEVENS' PLEA.

Ex-Minister Stevens does not produce single argument for the annexation of Hawaii in his long and rather eloquent address to the American people.

It may be admitted that the Queen was an immoral woman, judged by the stricter standards of civilization, and that she was not a fit person to be charged with responsibilities of State. It may be admitted. oo, that the revolutionists did right in dethroning her and establishing a government of their own. But it does not follow from the desperate condition of Hawaiian politics that it is the duty of the United States to annex the islands. We owe no such duty to Hawalians. We sympathize with them and deplore their sad condition, but we are no nore called upon to pull them out of their troubles than we are to undertake a war in behalf of Ireland or the down-trodden Poles. Our duty is to ourselves, and it is exhausted when we provide ample and effective protection to American citizens residing on the islands and see that they suffer no harm in person or property.

Mr. Stevens does not touch the real point in issue, which is, whether or not it is exislands. This plain, commonplace utilitarian question is the only one to be considered, unless we are to let sentimentality run away with our judgment and reduce politics to a condition of emotion and ing. The "Delia" has been shipped home or snuffles. It is not enough to point to the opinions of Adams and Webster, Clayton the fault did not lie with Gen. Simon's lack and Marcy. Mere authority has no of nautical skill. They believe that he unof these men is deserving of profound respect and their reasoning should be studied, the question cannot be decided by merely citing their opinions. Mr. Stevens has not added any weight to the case of the annexationists.

A RELIGIOUS OPPORTUNITY.

Instead of denouncing and boycotting the World's Fair, should the resolution of the Board of Commissioners to open the gates on Sundays be carried out, would it mind. not be more in the spirit of Christianity for religious people to accept and utilize the great opportunity afforded by the Sunday opening to promote the cause of morality and religion and labor for the spiritual elevation of the throngs attending the Exposition?

Let the church organizations accept the invitation to make religious use of the Exposition halls on Sunday. Let the leading clergymen, the greatest pulpit orators of the world, be invited to deliver addresses within the Exposition gates. Religious services with good sacred music led by the great men of the churches would attract thousands who might otherwise never attend religious worship. Crowds of people will attend the Exposition on Sunday. Can Christian people who think these people do wrong justify a refusal on that account to make them better and teach them the ways of righteousness? By shutting themselves off from all chance to influence these throngs they merely satisfy petty spirit of intolerance at a sacrifice of the cause of Christianity. Is it right to let intolerance stand in the way of good work? Is it Christian-like to let a difference of opinion stand in the way of uplift ing mankind? Is it charitable to refuse to help sinners because they do not conform to a certain rule of conduct?

The Sunday opening affords the church organizations an opportunity to do a great supreme unfitness for a diplomatic post by work and to make the Exposition a mighty reasonable, uncharitable, unchristianlike to spurn such a chance?

CRIME CROMOTING PRIVILEGES.

Nearly all of the so-called industria stocks by the swindling inflation and have lost millions of dollars were based upon combines created by tariff taxes, The cordage, cotton oil, sugar, whisky, lead, rubber and other well-known trusts were enabled to form monopoly combinations through the operation of discrimi nating tariff laws which placed the people of this country at their mercy. Even the coal combine had tariff laws to help it.

The tariff laws made it possible for the ombines to crush out competition and charge monopoly prices, and upon this power to squeeze the people were constructed the hube financial trust balloons Thus the people were robbed by tariff laws ramed ostensibly to protect them, but really to protect monopolies; they were robbed by monopoly prices, and robbed by swindling stock operations growing out of he monopolistic combines and their monopolistic prices The Government has been in a measure partner in these robber enterprises by conferring robber privileges upon their pronoters. Unjust plutocratic legislation lies at the bottom of the trust villainy. The gross abuse of the privilege of protection is the natural consequence of the original wrong embodied in protective taxes levied at the dictation of special interests. But the original wrong does not justify the men who have engaged in aided or abetted rascally schemes to profit by it. It only puts upon the Government the duty of hastening the abolition of monopolistic privileges and of punishing those who have abused them.

THERE can be no mistake about the quality of Gov. Hogg's Democracy. It is the pure unadulterated sort which does not countenance papa government and holds to the principle of local self-government, self-help and individual liberty, Texas will have none of the bounty grab as a State so long as Hogg is Governor, although under the law the State is entitled to $20,000 a year of sugar bounty, being one of the largest sugar growers in the South. "There is as much authority for Congress to give a bounty on chickens as on sugar." says the Governor, and as chicken raisers, wheat growers and cultivators of peanuts do not feel Uncle Sam's generosity in a practical way, there is no good reason why the sugar men should. Troubles Thickening for the Managers of the Whisky Trust.

Some Inside Facts Concerning the Withdrawal of Distilleries.

THE GOING OUT OF THE MONARCH ADDS TO THE COMPLICATIONS.

Meeting of Vital Importance to the Big Corporation Held in Peoria To-Day-Greenhut, Beggs, Hobart, Green, Freiberg, Hennessy and Morris in Secret Consultation - Ther Reply to Ecceders-Probable Outcome.

PEORIA, Ill., May 24. It is now possible to et at and give to the world the inside facts a the withdrawal of cerain distilleries from the Whisky Trust, says a local afternoon paper. There is a neeting of director Distilling and Cattle Feed-Co. in cours to-day. are in consultation Messrs, Greenbut, Reggs, Hobart, Green, Freiberg, Hennessy and Morris. That it is an important session is evident in the face of recent sensational developments, and it may easonably be deemed the most important o its kind that the organization has ever seen. A sixth factor was added to the com plication on yesterday afternoon. This is in en Corning of Clevelari, O., for rental aleged to be due on account of the Monarch listillery. The receiptor this demand was ompany by President Greenhut, who takes e ground that no reit is due. On June 8, 892, written notice was served on Mr. Corning Co. that the orininal valuation on which the lease rentals were based had expired by natural limitation, the five years of its contract existence having run out. He was informed that the company or trust, or whatever the fancy of the individual reader choose to hickname the corporation, desired a revaluation and was ready to name its appraisers with a view to speedily settling the new rental basis.

speedily settling the new rental basis.

Mr. Corning was requested to select his appraisers, but he did not do so. Several times since then sinilar demands were made but without elicring any practical response. The revolution never materialized, not by virtue of any allure on the part of the company to faciliate the process, but the company to facilitate the process, but solely, in so far as the Monarch distillery is involved, through Wairen Corning's neglect. The company announces its willingness to pay every cent of rental tc date as soon as the valuation is adjusted. Late in the afternoon of yesterday Will Ricl, a local representative of the Monarch, sirved a notice of cancellation of lease similar in form to the written announcements made by the five original secolory. This too was promptly cellation of lease similar in form to the written announcements made by the five original seceders. This, too, was promptly acknowledged, and in response President Greenhut served notice that the lease is not subject to cancellation. Such being the case any attempt to interfere with the operation of the Monarch distilbry, or any loss due to such interference wil be directly charged to Warren Corning and he was accordingly informed that he woull be held individually responsible. He was further notified that no interference, direct or indirect, in the control of tie distillery would be tolerated and all damage or loss would render him liable to the stockholders and officers of the company to whom his house render him liable to the stockholders and officers of the company to whom his house was sold outright and paid for six years ago. This, then, is the exact relation of the Monarch Distillery to the complication. Sam Woolner and his associates glory in the Monarch's withdrawal, if such, indeed, alamities which seem the substitute of the substitute of the trust are coming too thick to be result of accident. They seemed infected with the poison of design. There with the poison of design. to materialize, not because of the company's action, but because the owners of the leased ground falled to name or select their appraisers.

HOSPITABLE DENVER. DENVER, Colo., May 24.—The Baptists own this town to-day. Since last night and up to noon to-day fully 600 more delegates have arrived. Everywhere their colors, the purple and white, are to be seen. The Reception Committee has its hands full, but they are being assisted by citizens of all shades of religious belief. Men about town were amazed this morning to see a noted confidence man and gambler piloting a party of delegates to their destination and, at the same time, taking great pains to point out every object of interest. Later an acquaintance took the liberty to feer at him for this, and narrowly escaped a thrashing. "I want you to understand," said the ex-confidence man and gambler, "that I am a Baptist," but quickly correcting himself, and in a subarrived. Ex-Secretary Don M. Dickinson left for New York last night, in which city he will rejoin his wife. Together they will spend the summer at some one of the resorts upon the Long Island coast. He will give his address to no man outside of the circle of his intimate friends. He has not yet fully recovered from his recent illness, but is rapidly improving. When he reached Washington on his last visit he found awaiting him at the Arington Hotel a pile of 2,000 letters. They were from men who wanted office or some other favor from the Administration.

Mr. Dickinson spent a large part of Monday closeted with the President, and yesterday held a lengthy peace talk with Assistant Secretary of State Quincy. His work is done and a number of Northwestern appointments are expected to follow.

The Site of Camp Jackson.

Editor of the Post-Dispatch: The "historic ground" referred to in yes terday's Republic as the "very" Camp Jack-son itself, sold by A. F. Ghio to Mme. Baronne D'Auchaid of Fountainebleau, at the corner of Compton avenue and Olive street, was not the site of Camp Jackson at all. Camp Jackson was, truly enough, on the Lindell pasture lot, and the eastern line of the pasture was Compton avenue which cornered at Olive street. But the "very" camp was at the west end of the pasture, bounded on the west by Grand avenue and lying on the eastern slope which was divided from the Compton arenue half by a deep gully, now marked by the depression of thanning avenue, or Thirty-fourth street, Col. Blair's regiment, on May 10, approached the camp from the south along Grand avenue, turned east on Olive street and lay north of the camp on that street, with its head at about ware avenue, while the negotiations for the surrender were taking place. The shooting and killing took place about the corner of Compton avenue and Olive street, but this was after Gen. Frost and his command had marched out of camp and were at halt on Olive street.

Unwilling Gif s to Teachers.

To the Edstor of the Post-Dispatch: Permit me to call the attention of the Post-DISPATCH to the evil of enforced contribu tions from pupils for the purchase of pres tions from nuplis for the purchase of presents for teachers in our public schools. A very fingrant instance has recently come to my knowledge in which repeated appeals were made to children for contributions of 50 cents each, and the last one was virtually compelled to give the money by the exhibition of a subscription paper showing that every other student in the class had contributed. Yet the teacher to whom the gift is to be made holds one of the best paid positions in the st. Louis schools, while among her pupils are many children of parents who need every Louis schools, while among her pupils are many children of parents who need every half dollar of their siender incomes for the support of their families.

There ought to be an iron-clad rule under which any teacher accepting a gift from her pupils would forfeit her position. In the absence of such a rule, self-respecting teachers should positively refuse such gifts when tendered, and see that the money is returned to the donors.

Heaven is a state or condition, not a place or habitation. It is built and enjoyed on this planet. It is the natural consequence of having acted in accordance with the golden rule, "Do unto others as you would like to be done unto," and is identical with the satisfied and peaceful state of mind thus created. The present proprietor, it is true, has in view the formation of a co-operative society, but one for the sole benefit of the members of the Herald staff, including the general manager, city editor, news editor, night editor, all editors, correspondents, responsers, artists, cashiers, clerks, foremen, press and composing rooms, proofreaders, compositors, fainters, exchange readers, shipping clerks, telegraph clerks, advertising clerks, messengers and sorters, firemen, machinists (for they are all members of the Herald staff, are they not?) and not for any stock-jobbing or speculative purposes, as has been done so often in England and america. This co-operative society may be formed at any moment by the proprietor whenever he thinks proper.

The founder of the Herald disposed of it before his death for $1$ to its present proprietor, and in order to avoid any post-mortem interference by politically biased courts under guise of a proceeding for the legal construction of a will, as in the Tilden will case not long ago, the proprietor of the Herald proposes to follow the example of its founder and direct the disposition of the Herald without outside interference of any kind. Coney Island Jockey Club. The royal party will leave for Chicago on Friday, June 2.

The number of invitations to the ball on the 26th have been limited to 500. All the invitations will be sent directly by the Circuic Colon-Gervantes Club to those persons suggested by the patronesses. The price of the tirkets has been put at $15 each and that of boxes at $100 extra.

The cost of the ball, according to Secretary Cuyas, of the 'Committee of Arrangements, will not be much less than $25,000. The floral decorations, which were described in yesterday's Post-Dispatch, will be the most expensive item of the bill. The members of the Committee of Arrangements have signed a guarantee fund sufficiently large to cover any possible deficit.

The commanders of the Spanish warships have decided to send ashore a company of unarmed marines to act as a guard of honor to the Infanta. The sea soldiers in their bright uniforms will line the staircase to the assembly room. During the ball the Princess and her suit will be attended by a number of lackeys dressed in the gorgeous Spanish court livery.

Ward Meallister thinks that etiquette requires the Infanta to dance the quadrille with Mayor Gilroy, and that Mirs. Gilroy must be the first partner of the Princess' husband. When reminded of the fact that the ball was a rurely social affeir the great general of balls and receptions replied:

"The ball has a distinct public flavor; in act, it is semi-official. It cannot be regarded as a purely private affair, because the Princess is the guest of the nation. As soon as she arrives in New York she is in the care of the Governor of the State and that functionary being absent, in the care of the Mayor at the ball have pracedence over the Mayor and would be the proper person to lead the quadrille with the Infanta, but in his absence the Mayor is the man."

"Do you think the ball will be a success, Mr. McAllister?" the reporter assed.

"Do you think the ball will be a success,
Mr. McAllister?" the reporter asked.
"From a social point of view, yes," he replied, "for only the best people will be there; plied. "for only the best people will be there; but it could also have been made the most striking and brilliant ever given in this city. In fact, it should be as much as possible a copy of a real court ball. I do not say that it would be necessary for the ladies to appear in court dress, though no doubt many of them would have done so if they had received the least encouragement; but what I mean is a military display, a profusion of brilliant uniforms and soldiers stationed all around the room."

Falling into a reminiscent mood Mr. Mc-Allister said: Failing into a reminiscent mood Mr. Mc-Allister said:

'This affair reminds me of a gala ball I attended given in honor of Victor Emanuel, at that time King of Piedmont and Sardinia, by Napoleon III, at the Hotel de Ville, in Paris. That was a sight, sir! The ball and reception took place in fourteen rooms. All the highest generals of the French Army and all the members of the Paris Diplomatic Corps were in attendance. The Swiss Guard, none of them under six feet, lined the walls of the rooms and the staircases. Ah, sir, words fail to describe it; but I can say that it was a scene never to be forgotten, and I never expect to see another like it."

WAS THE COURTEST SCANT?

WASHINGTON, D.C., May 24. - Since the presentation of the Infanta Eulalia at the White House there has been much talk about the sident's failure to return in person the

This question is agitating Washington soclety both in its official and private circles, and is the subject of endless discussion and plation in the Diplomatic Corps. Opinion ms to be about evenly divided on the seems to be about evenly divided on the point. Those who stick to the strict tenets of official stiquette claim that ars. Cleveland's visit, accompanied as she was by the ladies of the cabinet, was all the return called for under the circumstances. But others, who take a more liberal view of the case, refer to the peculiar conditions under which the infanta's visit has been made, and declare that in this case the President should have waived all precedents and have called in person. He would thus not only have testified to the cordial regard in which the Spanish royal family is held by the people of the United States, but he would have done much to relieve the embarrassment which the Infanta and her suit are now beginning to feel in consequence of the general discussion here of the peculiar circumstances under which her visit is made. Henry Wagner. Frank Udell, Secretary of the Udell Wooder Vare Co., called at the Prosecuting Attorney's office to-day and wanted sequence of the general discussion here of the peculiar circumstances under which her visit is made.

This discussion has not yet got into print, but it can be heard in every drawing-room in Washington, particularly in the houses of the diplomats, who are great sticklers for the fine points of official etiquette.

The visit of the Prince of Wales to Washington is remembered by many people who still take a lively interest in social affairs. He was entertained at the White House and slept in a spacious bedroom still known as the Prince of Wales' room. This apartment is in the southwest corner of the White House, and the massive bedstead and heavy canopy now in use were there when the Prince occupied the room. The fact that the Prince was received and entertained at the White House obvia ed all question of making and returning calls, so that no precedent was established in his case.

The Grand Duke Alexis came to the United States during President Grant's first term. to get a warrant against Henry Wagner, an employe of the firm, charging him with embezzling $45. Wagner was salesman and collected the money, Mr. Udell stated, and kept it. He had been in the employ of the firm about three months and came from the East. Mr. Udell stated that Wagner had been playing the races. He has failed to report for some days. The warrant was not issued, as the whereabouts of Wag-

The Grand Duke Alexis came to the United States during President Grant's first term. He was the son of the Uzar of Russia and a brother of the present monarch. As the Czar had sent a Russian fleet to the United States in 1864 to make a friendly demonstration in the interest of the North, with a view to preventing Françe or England from taking a hand in the war of the rebellion on behalf of the South, it was expected by Russian officials that the Grand Duke would be received with extraordinary manifestations of good will and all the pomp and ceremony that would have marked his reception at a European court. The Duke called at the White House, but President Grant did not return the visit, and because of this the Czar made some very pointed remarks to Gen. Curtin, then United States Minister to St. Petersburg. The Minnetonka Yacht Club-house is in mediately in front of it, and it will be the central spot on the lake during the Minne apolis and Minnetonka carnival. A REMARKABLE INCREASE.

Splendid Showing for May Made by the Post-Office.

The post-office receipts for the first twenty two days of May show a most remarkable increase over the same period last year. In 1892 the sales aggregated $78,357.53, and this month they amounted to $94,003.20, an increase of $15,645.67, or 19 9-10 per cent. Postmaster Harlow said: "There is no reason for this increase save the fact that St. Louis is growing, and growing more rapidly than is generally supposed, at some periods there is often a temporary cause for an increase of mail matter, but none such has operated during this month. The increase simply means an increase in the business done by St. Louis."

The percentage of increase for the entire month will probably not be so large, as it is a well-known fact that the last few days of a month always show a diminution in post-office receipts, and the proportional diminution is greatest when receipts are heaviest.

At Sheepshead Bay yesterday morning the Morris representative, Rainbow, by Long-fellow, with Fred Littlefield up, worked a fellow, with Fred Littlefield up, worked a mile and a half in 2:33½, having fully 120 pounds up. The time for the first mile was 1:43½, the mile and a quarter 2:09½ and the mile and three furlongs 2:23. This compares avorably with any public trial by a 3-year-old seen in years, and those who saw it were amazed. The Oneck stables derby candidate, G. W. Johnson, worked with Sir Waiter a mile and a quarter yesterday morning in 2:11½ and the former was easily first at the finish. Rampo, Gideon and Daly's coit that will wear the dark blue in the $50.000 race, has been a mile and a half in about 2:42 and is ready to go much faster whenever he is called upon to do it. Don Alonso, Michael Dwyer's standard-bearer, has worked a mile and a furlong in 1:58, but the public will get a line on him in the Brooklyn derby to-morrow.

He let Pull-man, a 10 and 15 to 1 shot, get off in front in the third race by three or four lengths, and Hurns' gelding was never afterwards headed, winning by some ten lengths. Tom Hurns and his friends backed the winner extensive-ly. Frank Jordan won the opening event with the favorite, Maid of Honor, at 2 to 1 and with the favorite, said of Hodor, at 1 to 1 and 8 to 5. Dan Hoding's J. W. Brooks, at 4 to 1 and 3 to 2, was successful in the second race. The Ex-Minister to Hawaii Explains His

W YORK, May 24.—Ex-Minister to Hawaii John L. Stevens, has given to the press a lengthy statement in explanation of his acts at Honolulu. After relating his experience on the islands up to the time of the dethrone-ment of Queen Lilluckalani, the ex-Minister vicates the policy of annexation, closing with these words:

The solution of this Hawaiian problem should not be influenced by partisan prejudices and partisan plans. No sincers patriot, no wise stateman, will seek to gain party advantages or personal ends by its adjustment. There is in it an issue between civilization and good government, against corruption, sharthy and barbaric sensualism. In this regard we can take a leason from Great Britain, whose states are the same particular and the same patriotic attitudes. The same patriotic attitudes overant states are same patriotic attitudes overant states and the same patriotic attitudes. Failing to accept this valuable prize would surely bring our statesmen to the bar of history with an indictment of blundering criminality from which there could be no escape.

FOR LOVE OF A MAIDEN.

A Young Georgian of 17 Years Takes His Own Life.

ATLANTA, Ga., May 24 .- Just as the State Capitol bell was ringing out the hour of 7 o'clock last night the report of a pistol shot was heard. This drew the janitors to the spot, who found the dead body of Lewis Abbott lying upon the floor, near the base of the Ben Hill monument, in the Grand Hall. In his right hand was held a pistol. A bullet had passed through his right temple. It seems that young Abbott, who was but if and was a student in the City High School, was desperately in love with the 15-year-old daughter of the Rev. ### ARKANSAS SCHOOL FUNDS

Tied Up by the Neglect of the Last State Legislature. LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 21.—Owing to the neglect of the last Legislature to pass bills for the disbursement of the school fund in for the disbursement of the school fund in the counties of this State, Treasurer Morrow will probably be enjoined from paying out either it or the poll-tax, which was also overlooked, until a special session is called and the necessary bills passed. Gov. Fishback and a number of leading lawyers contend that no legislation upon the subject is necessary, while an equal number assert that the money cannot be drawn from the State Treasury without it.

Treasurer Morrow says that he will not need the controversy unless the Governor interferes. If the money is tied up in the treasury the public schools will be virtually closed until the matter is settled.

More Than $70,000 Cincinnati University Money Has Disappeared.

CINCINNATI, O., May 24. - More than $70,000 of the funds of the Cincinnati University is missing, and where it is no one seems to be able to explain. Monday signt at a meeting of the university trustees Dr. C. A. Leed, in an looking over an old ledger, found a disdiscrepancy of upward of $40,000, which he said had been paid to the sinking fund trustees, for which credit had not been given to the University Board.

Seal Peachers Troubling Japanese Waters

VANCOUVER, British Columbia, May 24.—The vancouver, British Columber, may 24.—The steamship Empress of India arrived at 8 o'clock last evening from the Orient with a full cargo. She brings 170 saloon and 28 in-termediate passengers, 448 Chinese and 127

The Earl of Jersey, Governor of New South Wales, is among the passengers. He is on his way to England and will visit the World's way to England and will visit the World's Fair en route.

The Empress of India brings Japanese advices of May 11. The visits of foreign sealing schooners to Japanese waters have of intentracted attention in Japan, and a general belief prevailed that they carried on their operations within the territorial waters of Japan and the native journals called upon the Government to keep the poachers away. A man-of-war which was dispatched to investigate the movements of the three sealers returned recently and reports that the stories about the depredations of the foreigners are exaggerated, returned recently and reports that the stories about the depredations of the foreigners are exaggrated.

The sealers congregate about the middle of March in a locality 150 or 200 miles from Kinkasang. In May, they begin to move northward, following the seals as they return to cooler regions. This movement takes the vessels as far north as Chis Hima, whence they turn north from the Behring sea, not coming, as a rule, within the territorial waters of Japan in pursuit of seals. The captain of the man-of-war reports, however, that a rough and unscrupulous set of men form the crews of these vessels and that there is danger of their causing much annoyance to inhabitants on the coast, as they frequently enter obscure harbors for fresh water and other supplies.

The vernacular press declare that some Japanese men of high social, position are secretly in league with the foreign preachers and have established companies both in Yokohama and Tokio. The authorities are urged to investigate this matter. The press also urges the Japanese nation to compete with foreigners on the high sea.

The recent severe frosts are playing saft havoc with crops generally. A violent snow storm was experienced in Ugo Province on May 4. In some places the ground was covered to a depth of 2 feet. Owing to the severity of the weather the silk culturists of Yuma Prefecture will sustain a loss of 2,000,000 yen through finjury to the cocoons.

The losses in the silk district of Josu Province are estimated at over 3,000,000 yen. Much damage was done to tea plants in the three Tama districts of Tokio, and the loss in the heighborhood of Sayama is estimated at a quarter of a million yen.

Stockholders Petitioning for Appoint-

SIOUX CITY, Io., May 24 .- On petition of W. H. Miller, John H. Miller and M. A. Travers of Wichita, Kan., a receiver has been appointed for the Sloux Investment Co. The company bought out the Kansas Land and Mortgage Co. of Wichita three years ago by exchange of stock. The company is managed by A. M. Coffman and the petitioners allege by A. M. Coffman and the petitioners allege that he is trying to close up its business in a way that will deprive stockholders of their share of the surplus. They also allege that he has used the credit of the company to raise money to advance other enterprises and finally that if the affairs of the company are closed up now it will leave nothing to save stockholders of the absorbed Kansas company from hability on the notes and mortgages sold and guaranteed before the absorption. Under the Kansas law stockholders are liable for double the amount of stock and the Kansas people do not want to take chances of meeting such liabilities. They say the company has assets of $90,000 and liabilities of $40.000, and simply want to prevent closing up its affairs until they are protected. The court appointed W. E. Gantt receiver.

NEW YORK, May 24. - Bank Examiner Wm. Bank of Deposit yesterday, said this morning that there was a fair chance of the appointing of a receiver being avoided. The depositors, stockholders and directors will meet this afternoon to adopt a plan for the winding up of the affairs of the bank. If they can agree and fix upon a committee to take charge of affairs a receivership can be avoided. Otherwise some one will have to be appointed to close up the business of the bank. President Eandall is still hopeful of making a good showing for the stockholders.

Since the exposures regarding Weeks his co-trustee has made a careful investigation with the result that he could find no trace of any part of the estate. Yesterday Mr. Roossevilt through his attorneys presented the facts to Judge Andrews of the Supreme Court, who removed Weeks as trustee. Weeks, it will be recalled, disappeared some ten days ago.

Wheat—Yesterday was hard enough on the bulls, but this moraing was infinitely worse. It was a steadily slide dewn in price that sweet over puts and the buying of shorts as though there were no obstacles in the way, and brought out so much indication that the same of the control of a check the market was off he more. The performance of "Jacinta" was repeated last night at the .Grand Opera-house fore an audience fully as large as on the ning night. By judicious pruning the opening night. By judicious pruning the performance was shortened thirty-six minutes without at all interfering with the interest of the plot. Stage Manager Fals and librettist Lepere say that the action will be shortened fully fifteen minutes more tonight. The performance went with more snap and smoothness as all signs of nervousness had disappeared. Mr. Smith took counsel of kindly criticism and gave a much cleaner interpretation of the part of the Alcalde. The advance sale indicates crowded houses for the remainder of the week.
